WILL HELP ROOSEVELT

Speaker Cannon Ready to Aid In Restoring Credit.

SEES NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Denies That He Is Opposed to Any Currency Legislation and Declares That Country Was Never So Prosperous as It Is Now.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Representative J. G. Cannon of Illinois, who will be elected speaker of the house of representatives again next month, arrived in Washington to be on the ground for the preliminaries of the opening of congress.

Perhaps the most important matter that transpired as a result of his appearance was the development that he and President Roosevelt will be together in the rather embarrassing position in which the party finds itself working for the restoration of public confidence and for the adjustment of business conditions. The speaker has been much impressed with the manner in which the president and Secretary Cortelyou have risen to the occasion in the matter of allaying public excitement, and he will not permit political considerations to interfere with bringing to success the next session of congress in the matter of legislation that may be needed.

Another important development of the arrival of the speaker was the correction of an erroneous report that he was opposed to any currency legislation. He made it clear that he is not committed to any plan in view of the multiplicity of measures offered by various persons in and out of congress.

The speaker also proved himself an optimist on the business outlook. He believes that in view of the mending of the outlook the only thing necessary is for the New York banks to resume the payment of currency and that there will be a complete change in the feeling of everybody within two weeks. He looks for a great change in that time. Speaker Cannon when questioned particularly about currency legislation said:

"That is something that I do not care to speak about at this time. There will be time enough to decide what is to be done when we reach an agreement as to what is necessary. I am in favor of the passage of all legislation that the country needs and in favor of doing it as quickly as it can be accomplished. But there are a great many measures proposed for the treatment of the currency."

"We shall have to hear what is suggested by the president and by the secretary of the treasury. Then much will depend on what may be suggested by the committee on banking and currency when it is formed. But, as I said, there have been many suggestions. There seem to be as many different ones as there are persons who think that there ought to be a remedy—that is to say, almost every man has a different plan."

"What do you think of the plan of financial relief that has been adopted by the government?"

"It seems to have been ample. The government has placed all the money that it can spare in the banks in order to relieve the currency famine, the banks and financiers of New York have brought $60,000,000 in gold into the country, the banks have furthermore taken out perhaps $25,000,000 in additional circulation, and on the top of that the secretary of the treasury has decided to issue Panama bonds and treasury certificates."

"I believe that these measures will be ample and that there will be a speedy restoration of confidence and a resumption of business. The uneasiness that has prevented the banks from paying out money because they wanted to protect their reserves is passing, and in my opinion within two weeks there will be a complete restoration of confidence, a resumption of currency payments and everything will be all right again."

The country was never so prosperous as now. There are ten billions of products waiting to be marketed. These products are going to market, and there will in my opinion be no serious stagnation of business. I desire to say nothing more than that. In my section of the country there is a big corn crop and a big hog crop. A little farther away there is a big wheat crop, and there are plenty of steers. The prices are just now a little off, but just as soon as the country finds that there is ample money to do business the bonds will be broken and the crops will go to market. There is also no stagnation of business and no uneasiness such as has been represented as existing in the west."
